University of California, Irvine

Pierre Baldi is a Distinguished Professor in the Department of Computer Science, Director of the Institute for Genomics and Bioinformatics, and Associated Director of the Center for Machine Learning and Intelligent Systems at the University of California, Irvine. Baldi holds a Ph.D. in mathematics from the California Institute of Technology, and he is a leader in the fields of artificial intelligence and machine learning. He has used these approaches for applications in physics, chemistry, and biology. Baldi’s innovative research has been recognized by several awards, including the Lew Allen Research Award and the Microsoft Faculty Research Award. He has published numerous high-impact papers, and he has authored four books that span topics from genomics and bioinformatics, to data mining and the internet.
